Confrontational Avoidance Techniques Training © Instructor Certification Course for Law Enforcement

Course Location: Departments Nationwide

Course Dates: TBA 2017

Course Profile: A contemporary and progressive one-day intensive & extensive training program designed and developed exclusively for Police, Corrections & Security Officers. This updated and proven street & facility instructor level program has been taught nationally since 1992 with an overall 60% reduction in de-escalating use of force. Training focuses on avoidance of verbal and physical confrontations when dealing with irate, irrational and hostile subjects where lawful Officer Intervention is required. Developed within national, Federal parameters of verbal de-escalation skills, the course also addresses the proper lawful parameters of potential use of force if the Officer is physically assaulted by a subject. The program follows escalation & de-escalation of force based on the highly acclaimed, court proven “TJA Ladder of Force Continuum©.” This continuum has been recognized as a standard for juries in Federal Court cases since 1986 in better understanding lawful use of force actions by officials in the course of their employment.

Topics Covered in the Training Include:

- Confrontational Avoidance Techniques©; understanding the four types of anger (the basis of violence), key verbal de-escalation techniques and body space parameters.
- Field proven conversation techniques when handling confrontational and hostile subjects and groups.
- To develop and understand key knowledge principles for a lawful and defensible written report based on the nationally acclaimed TJA Ladder of Force© Continuum.
- Proper and judicious escalation of use of force based on Federal parameters is thoroughly discussed base on a national geographic use of force issues and court cases.

- Proper verbal handling various racial, religious and protesting groups in public or correctional venues when responding to potential hostile conditions.
Costs & Provisions: $195.00 per person. Includes all course materials and a USB flash-drive with PowerPoints.
